OFFICE OF EXPERIMENT STATIONS—CIRCULAR 97.

A. C. TRUE, Director.

INSTITUTIONS IN THE UNITED STATES GIVING INSTRUCTION IN AGRICULTURE.

[Corrected to May 1, 1910.]

This list, compiled by Miss Marie T. Spethmann, includes only those institutions which through correspondence or other specific information received directly from them have come to be listed in this Office among the institutions giving definite instruction in agriculture. It is to be revised annually, and at the time of revision the names of other colleges and schools offering courses in agriculture will be added.

That the number of such institutions is steadily increasing is shown by the following summary, the figures in parentheses being taken from the list published in October, 1908.

Institutions for white students.—Collegiate, 57 (51); privately endowed colleges, 24 (13); agricultural high schools receiving state aid, 58 (40); privately endowed agricultural high schools, 2 (3); public high schools receiving state aid for agriculture, 28 (0); normal schools, including industrial schools for women, 156 (115); public and private high schools and academies, 432 (250); correspondence and reading courses in agriculture, 18 (15); elementary schools (special), 34 (26).

Institutions for negroes and Indians.—Secondary schools, 46 (24); elementary schools, 20 (8).

Total number of institutions, 875 (545).

Total increase, 330.
